

27 January 2023

Dear families,

You will know from the news that the National Education Union (NEU) are planning on some days of industrial action over the coming weeks. The first of these dates is next Wednesday, 1 February.

Based on the information I currently hold, we will be able to remain open to all primary year groups. Children in Nursery, Reception and Years 1-6 should attend school as normal.

Whilst we may experience some slight disruption, we are confident that we will have sufficient staff to maintain our usual educational offer.

Breakfast club and after school clubs will also run as normal on this date.

Members of the union still have time to change their mind and take part in the planned strikes. I will communicate any updates to our provision should our staffing numbers change.

Thank you for your continued support,

Helen Haunch
Principal
